

Public Lecture by Cabinet Secretary Ministry of Foreign Affairs

The Department of Sociology today on 22nd March 2016 hosted the CS of Foreign Affairs, Ambassador Anima Mohammed. On her public lecture to the Students the Cabinet Secretary noted that the youth are the engine that powers the Kenyan economy.

She urged the students to work hard and make Kenya great despite the challenges in the country. She encouraged students to march forward with confidence because Kenya is a great country. The CS noted that Kenya has made great gains towards combating terrorism which is a global problem. The University is mandated to produce holistic graduates and it is in this Endeavour that various departments invite public figures to interact with the students.

Present during the occasion was Prof. Enos Njeru(The Principal ,College of Humanities and Social Sciences) Dr. Robinson Ocharo (Chairman Department of Sociology) , Mr. Ken Ouko (Lecturer Department of Sociology) and The University of Nairobi Students.
